

Stick To Your Guns, All Time Low

My kindness has been mistaken
For a weakness disrespect and carelessness
Is result of your selfishness..
I stood right by your side
And gave you all my time
And in return you took all of my pride
So I'm here to take back what's mine..
And your friendship I still keep
But honestly how far must you go to an all time low..
I see right through your disguise
I see the lies you hide behind
And this cant stop until you realize a thing
Or two about sacrifice..
What's done is done and its time to move on
So lets forgive and lets forget and put back into the past
