

Story Of The Year, The Unheard Voice

these color dreams that we have will put everything in the back seat drive past you so good night
these dollar signs will be the death of all our dreams you cant take all of my heart but you can take your best shot

we are the unheard voice
a generation of what should be loud enough so we are the unheard voice a generation of what should be loud enough

and i know that our integrity is the greyest of the grey say good night the world is trying to silence all we say

these color dreams I hope we always have and now we say good night

and we are the unheard voice a generation should be loud enough we are the unheard voice (unheard voice)

we are the unheard voice (unheard voice)
unheard voice
