

Strangelove, I Will Burn

Good morning grey
Replace me for another day
And fill my time
So all that's here cannot remind
World and me
Tend to somewhat disagree
You and I
Are like the world and me
But I don't mind because I'm losing touch
Of the twisting in, of the senselessness
Of the words you spoke and yet are still unlocked
They will return
I will burn
Goodbye my true
I can't forget you'd see me through You'd see me through
Once upon a life unseen
Thoughts and you
They were the difference that I knew
Thoughts and you
The only difference that I knew
Walking from the day that just returns
And now before and now behind again
This memory I feel has yet to come
I will burn
