

Strangelove, Is There A Place?

Voice that leads me on
As distant as the days before are gone
Something I have lost
Has left a space that keeps me stumbling on Search through the rain and the sun or the night for the day I will find Watch all the moments are tumbling through
Like the clouds I will leave them behind
They fade
I want to fade
Is there a place for me
Somewhere?
Is there a place for me?
From stone against stone against stone
in my way
Cry that holds me down
Is closer than the fear of what's to come
Somehow I must change
Uncertainty has left me here undone Search through the stars and the shapes in the sky for the day I will find Look for a sign with my eyes I could see as it quiets my mind
They fade
I want to fade
Is there a place for me
Somewhere?
Is there a place for me?
From stone against stone against stone
in my way
Out,
Out of my hands
These prisoner's hands that carved me through with stone
And that's the stone of my heart
A prisoner's heart that can't feel love
I'm told
Told of another time
Another place
Another
Is there a place for me somewhere?
I've got to find somewhere
