

Stratovarius, Full Moon

Shining there in the sky light our way across the land
Black clouds in front of your face fading into the haze
In this prison of mine my soul lies in despair

My mind wanders through time tell me what is my crime
What is behind velvet lips heart as cold as the ice
In this prison of mine my soul lies in despair
Won't you set me free now I have to leave