

Styx, This Love

captain america is that you?
flying down the highway in your red white and blue.
you remind of the days in that infamous war,
when we weren't quite sure what we were fighting for.

i see you again and it makes me think about,
just who i am.
is ther someone you trust who can lead the way tonight?
who knows the plan?
where there's love,
there is grace.
There is love
