

Subb, High And Low

Don't wanna hear about politician's dreams of
A strong nation, when there's crime and fighting on the street
Why does a man keep on beating up his kid?
That keeps him locked in this stupid mental frame of mind

They all claim their innocence
They all claim it high and low
They will always stand their ground
No matter how it shakes...

Everyone's insane, no connection to the brain
Institution's getting rich and things will stay the same
It'll take a heavy hand but they will shake your base
A strong will may never seem to compensate, ...no!
