

Subdigitals, Time to cry

You feel alone, you want to cry
Why so much sadness in your eyes?
You look fragile, but you're so strong
Appearances can be so wrong
You feel alone, you want to cry
And all your friends are wondering why
The only one who understands you
Is far away and oh so lonely, too
And you are such a hero, girl!
But you don't believe in yourself...
One day it will be behind
And you'll have some peace of mind
And when finally we all will reach the end
You feel alone, you want to cry
You'd like to calm your virtual side
And you've been fighting against these thoughts
And when you're finished, you're done once more
You feel alone, you want to cry
When will you meet your perfect guy?
Who'll stick by you and understand you.
And never question where you're going to
And you are such a hero, girl.
But you don't believe in yourself
One day it will be behind
And you'll have some peace of mind
And when finally we all will reach the end
