Sublime, Were Only Gonna Die For Our Own Arra

Early man walked away As modern man took control There mind's weren't all the same And to conquer was their goal So he built his great empire And he slaughtered his own kind He died a confused man

And killed himself in his own mind (repeat)

Were only gonna die for our own arrogance, So we might as well take our time.