

Submersed, Sarah & Johnny

She sat alone,
Weepin' on a stone,
Findin' it hard to breathe
As she stared,
Into the night
(Stared into the night)
Her heart to numb to feel the cold
Finding it hard to breathe
Face to face,
With the moonlight

Stone cold To her eyes to her lips
Feeling numb of anger and space
Just one leap,
And her life she'll forget
It's too bad that she feels it's the only way

Before I,
Say goodbye,
Throw it all away
I'll remember yesterday
To go,
Over my head
I still hold on to you

He sat all night,
Trying not to cry
His future heart seen
Should he stay,
With his family
(Stay with his family)
Their hearts to strong to let him go,
Makin' it to hard to leave
A better world
To chase a dream

Stone cold from his eyes to his lips
Feeling numb of anger and space
One wrong move and his life's thrown away
It's too bad that he feels it's the only way

Before I
Say goodbye
Throw it all away
I'll remember yesterday
To go,
Over my head
I still hold on to you

Sometimes it's hard to realize
What's the right thing to do
But I know you'll find a hand
To light your way through this dark place

Before I,
Say goodbye
Throw it all away
I'll remember yesterday
To go,
Over my head
I still hold on to you

Before I,

Say goodbye
Throw it all away
I'll remember yesterday
To go,
Over my head
I'll still hold on to you
