

Such A Surge, Down To Earth

heaven on earth, god said let there be light and there was light but also a dark side delirium, you try to run but you can't hide you're greedy but you can't satisfy your appetite you're doing everything to get that devil in your mind you try to see things with the eyes of the blind isolation, the result of your addiction you're stoned to the bone but still alone you reach out for a shoulder to lean on but all respect is gone and you can't carry on despised by society, treated like an animal for the law just a piece of shit, a criminal you thought that you could fly, high in the sky like superman but in reality you're a weak man tear-drops falling from your eyes you're living in hell and you thought it was paradise refrain: it's not too late, take my hand i'll lead you down to earth

i used to know - a little boy called roy he had a dream - he was just seventeen he had a monkey on his back - a blood sucker called crack crack was a killer - roy's life became a thriller the higher he climbed - the further he fell down the king without a crown - became a clown to get his stuff - roy used to know how to handle a gun - he lost now he's gone he's six feet deep - and nobody cares refrain : down to earth my mind is free, i explore reality like an aboriginee, down to earth philosophy i'm not on l.s.d. cause i'll prefer to use only w.to the double e.to the d. i'm feeling irie without mental slavery no hard drugs ganja brings out the best in me weed of wisdom, weed of positivity no negativity just creativity my inner-mind's eye helps me to see all this crazy shit going on around me my life is not funny, not a fucking comedy nevertheless i don't do hard drugs, i wanna stay free

'cause yes it's me, the energizer battery so wait and see who's got more energy no heroin, no crack, no l.s.d. i'm free for eternity with the b.o.n.g.
