

Sugar Jones, A Little Bit Of Heaven

I wait until the morning comes
I look outside and then i run
Down to the place, where I might find you
Lots of people walk on by
The moments fade and still no sing
Just when I think of letting go
You come into my view
Baby do you realize
That everything you do is like,

(chorus)

A little bit of heaven
Every time you look my way
Pretty baby makes my day
Just like a little bit of heaven
A little bit of heaven

Suddenly I catch your eye
You throw a smile, I shake inside
Trying not to let you know
I turn and walk away, away
I hear my name, fall from your lips
I feel a touch, your finger tips.
Wondering how to let you in
Silently I pray
And with the voice of an angel
Sweet darling, I hear you say

(chorus)

A little bit of heaven
Everytime you loook my way
Pretty baby makes my day
Just like a little bit of heaven
A little bit of heaven
Everytime you call my name
Leave me wanting more of the same
Just like a little bit of heaven

Silently I pray,
Let's talk about the joy you bring
Ooh, i hear the angels sing
"Pretty baby, brighter place"
A little bit of heaven
A piece of heaven just like this
To lose myself within your arms
A little bit of heaven
Ooh
