Sunk Loto, Human Ashtray

I've got nothing left. It's plain to see You wanted me for the best in every way Scattered mind. Harder times It doesn't matter now cos I resigned

Will I resign? And I blame it all on you

Now we're falling down Now we're falling down

You got an ill communication and it's bothering me And you didn't stop complaining 'til you felt defeat Cos I got no time, can you hold the line If this goes any longer then I'm going to die

Well, I will die And I blame it all on you

And now we're falling down

Nothing's left for you
