

Sunny Side Up, Where The Sun Meets The Sky

(D. Dickers/ C. Jacobs/ P. Vridique)

I get obsessed when I'm down I'm stuck on the wrong side of town
I need you here like a child needs a mother It can get weary sometimes we all have to pay for our crimes now we're supposed to forget one another Colors are cruel when your world is black and white and love is a fool
Where the sun meets the sky
I kissed your love goodbye
I'd travel the world tonight
just to be with you
Every night, every day
I try to count the ways in which I could tell you why I couldn't see just how much you meant to me You never know who's the one until you're back on your own struck by the blinding light of temptation I can't pretend that I'm strong nor can I admit I was wrong tied up in the knot of my own reputation Your love was so sweet if you gave me one more chance I'd fall at your feet
Where the sun meets the sky
I kissed your love goodbye
I'd travel the world tonight
just to be with you
Every night, every day
just how much you meant to me I know I should break the silence if I could and tear these walls of stone apart
