

Sunrise Avenue, Somebody Will Find You Someday

It is all right
To run to the fields and look for anything
All the daffodils are pretty anyway
It is ok
To envy the birds flying heart to heart singing
All the songs about their happy nesting
Close your eyes and breathe
Close your eyes and let it come to you naturally
Just close your eyes and wait
Somebody will find you someday
It was so great
You woke up next to the player once again
And you heard the same false cheesy lines from him
It was so nice
Thought you found something but you will keep on looking
For the fulfillment for what is missing
And it hurts so much cause you feel that youre the only one whos left alone
Dont look for them dont try so hard cause youre the one who will be found
Youre the one who will be found
Cause youre the one who will be found
Close your eyes and breathe
Close your eyes and let it come to you naturally
Just close your eyes and wait
Somebody will find you someday
Close your eyes and breathe
Close your eyes and let it come to you naturally
Just close your eyes and wait
Somebody will find you someday
And take you to places
Close your eyes and breathe
Close your eyes and let it come to you naturally
Just close your eyes and wait
Somebody will find you someday
Close your eyes and breathe
Close your eyes and let it come to you naturally
Just close your eyes and wait
Somebody will find you someday
Somebody will find you someday
And take you to places
