

Superjoint Ritual, The Destruction Of A Person

(you see) I had some friends once before, whose not much my friends anymore
I was very influential in their lives (so they say) , and when I lost my Mind, they followed me though multiple deaths
(Chorus)

(Because) there we were on the floor, slumped over and sliding downward, with syringes hanging out of our arms, another night, anyway we could. I said TRUST ME
The Destruction of a person builds character, invisible

Another so called group of friends, can't seem to get off the needle now again Should I blame myself cause I introduced some of them to the devil?
Or just realize the lord of light, fallen from heaven works also in mysterious ways.
