

Surfdog7, Whole Again

Hey, i'm feeling real again, the clouds all disappeared
i'm walking on the sunny side of the road again old tears, all of them dried out, i'm walking without doubt into a future, where i'll never be alone again you, the center of my thoughts, this is a true romance give me your hand, together anything seems bare years, over all those years, gone those bitter tears together we can live forever and be safe

you blow the clouds away whole again

smile, give me your sunshine smile and when you cry, i'm here for you with arms that are open wide fear, no second left of fear, because when you are near the clouds are gone and i just feel whole again

whole again, feel whole again

i'm walking on the sunny side of the road again
into a future, where i'll never be alone again

whole again, feel whole again
