

Susan Ashton, I Will Follow

I cross the plains to california
Be back and lost in by the break of day
Do anything to show i care for you
Do anything for a love so true

And if your heart were under lock and keep I'd skill the castle walls to set free
If you were born in another rate
I'd turn the hands of time and find a way

Heaven knows i will go, i will follow
Heaven knows i will go, i will follow
I will follow

And if faded called the canyon wide and you were called upon the other side I'd cry some tears deep as the ocean blue and swim a great divide to get to you

Heaven knows i will go, i will follow
Heaven knows i will go, i will follow

But what is not to compare to a love
Find the depth of the sea to the stars above
I will follow
I will follow

I will follow you, for a love so true
All that i can be, i will follow

Heaven knows i will go, i will follow
heaven knows i will go, i will follow
heaven knows i will go, i will follow
heaven knows i will go, la la la la la
