

Swan Princess, That's What You Do For a Friend

[Jean-Bob]

I've been a moving target, I've been a sitting duck
I've almost been an alligator's food
And all because somebody with more courage than good sense
Had to be rescued from his own ineptitude
Well if commoners with not so much to live for
Want to jeopardize their lives maybe that should be allowed
But a prince is born for higher things
And shouldn't risk his life like an ordinary member of the crowd

[Odette]

But Jean-Bob

That's what you do for a friend, oh
That's what you do for a friend
That's what you do for a friend, my friend
That's what you do for a friend
You hang on through the hard times

[Puffin]

Make 'em laugh when they're feeling low

[Odette]

And when the danger's near you say

[Puffin]

No fear

[Odette]

And you go where you have to go
And you never back down

[Puffin]

And you never back out

[Odette]

Fighting even when you're filled with doubt

That's what you do for a friend, oh

That's what you do for a friend

That's what you do for a friend, my friend

That's what you do for a friend

[Jean-Bob]

Zippering into danger, dashing into traps

Rushing into an untimely end

You foolhardy heroes will end up with your backs

Against a wall in deep trouble once again

Now some may think it noble to die like that

And be immortalized in songs about the past

And you may think it wise to have a harrowing demise

So that's life's exciting right up to the last

[Odette]

But Jean-Bob

That's what you do for a friend, oh

That's what you do for a friend

That's what you do for a friend, my friend

That's what you do for a friend

[Speed]

And you even stick your neck out

[Odette]

No matter how scary it gets

[Puffin]

You go out on a limb when the chances are slim

[Odette]

And you do it with no regrets

And you never give up

[Speed]

And you never give in

[Odette]

You keep on trying

[Puffin]

Through thick and thin

[Odette]

That's what you do for a friend, oh
That's what you do for a friend
That's what you do for a friend, my friend
[Odette, Speed, Puffin]
That's what you do for a friend
