Sweet Matthew, Day For Night

What you gave me I could feel it Like the warm rays of the sun Such a small thing Took me farther Then I'd been with anyone What else can I tell you? My life was simply very bright So I traded the day for night Well I love you And I want you You should know that anyway Well I love you And I want you Doesn't mean I'll stay And how much can I tell you When my brain is terminally light And so bright That I traded the day for Night [solo] What else can I tell you? My life is simply very bright So I traded the day for night I traded the day for night
