

Swing Out Sisters, Making The Right Move

(Swing Out Sister)

Sweet talkin' in hush tones
At last we're all alone
A fleeting glance that just by chance
Had flourished and grow
Can't keep it to myself
It's you and no one else
With you I feel sweet dreams until
My conscience melts away
As long as the night can last without day
We'll stay out of sight and just drift away
Close your eyes and stay
You're makin' the right move
From now what's mine is yours
Each kiss and night defines
The city sleeps the thoughts we keep
We share amongst the stars
Oblivious to time
Your heart beat racing by
A tender touch that say so much
It leaves nothing more to hide
As long as the night can last without day
We'll stay out of sight and just drift away
Close your eyes and stay
You're makin' the right moves
You're makin' the right move
