

Swingin' Utters, The Next In Line

Born on the southside you live alone Four walls a roof and its always cold look out the window and out the back door and to the corner store all you want is a drink and nothing more Sit on the stoop