

Switchfoot, C'mon C'mon

You've been living your life like a sequel
And you're already bored with the plot
As if the cast and the score are more money than before
But the script and the backdrops are stock

We've got the rest of our lives to regret
All the words that we've said here
Did not put our bet,
In the morning
Let the morning find us in bloom

So come on, come on, come on
Lets not be our parents
Oh come on, come on, come on
Lets follow this through
Come on, come on, come on
The skies are on fire
We will rise with the wings of the dawn
And everything's new
And everything's new

Let us rise up like the summer sun
Let these songs awaken the dawn
Let us breathe every breath like a gift to be kept
Let us breathe it all in till its gone

We've got the rest of our lives
To live out all these dreams
That we stayed up tonight talking about
In the morning
To start hoping
But nothing to soon

So come on, come on, come on
Lets abandon this darkness
Oh come on, come on, come on
Lets follow this through
Come on, come on, come on
Everythings bleeding
Well be lit up like fire and gold

When everythings new
And everythings new
When everythings new
And everythings new
When everythings new
When everythings new
When everythings new
When everythings new
So come on, come on, come on
