Switchfoot, Gone

She told him she'd rather fix her makeup than try to fix what's going on But the problem keeps on calling even with the cell phone gone She told him that she believes in living bigger than she's living now But her world keeps spinning backwards and upside down

Don't say so long, you're not that far gone. Don't spend today away, 'cause today will soon be

Gone, like yesterday is gone, Like history is gone Just try to prove me wrong and pretend like you're immortal

She said,he said, live like no tomorrow Every day we borrow brings us one step closer to the edge,infinity Where's your treasure,where's your hope, if you get the world and lose your soul? She pretends like she pretends like she's immortal

Don't say so long, you're not that far gone This could be your big chance to make-up Today will soon be Gone,like yesterday is gone Like history is gone The world keeps spinning on You're going,going, Gone,like summer break is gone, Like Saturday is gone Just try to prove me wrong and pretend like you're immortal.

We are not infinite We are not permanent Nothing is immediate And we pretend like we're immortal. We are so confident in our accomplishments Look at our decadence

Gone,like Frank Sinatra,like Elvis and his mom, Like Al Pacino's cash,nothing lasts in this life Gone,my high school dreams are gone, my childhood sweets are gone Life is a day that doesn't last for long.

Life is more than money,time was never money Time was never cash,life is still more than girls. Life is more than hundred dollar bills and roto-tom fills, Life is more than fame and rock and roll and thrills, All the riches of the kings end up in wills We've got information in the information age but do we know what life is outside of our convenient Lexus cages?

She said he said live like no tomorrow Every moment that we borrow brings us closer to a God who's never been short of cash Hey Bono,I'm glad you asked. Life is still worth living,life is more that we are.
