

Sybreed, Ethernity

This cold morning is like a consecration
A procession of souls that will never end
The time of remembrance and disillusions
Shall dry the liquid pain running in my veins

[Chorus:]

Drain my blood and drown me in the sun, forever cured and sanctified

Now reborn, we cross the Rubicon,

Eternity will blend our minds in one

I close my eyes and shiver in resurrection

Standing on this ground of awakening

I float into the light of revelation

"Expire, and thus revive in the purest form"

[Chorus]

I watch the sky and prey for my deliverance

An endless whisper to find redemption

To breath the fire of all creation, divine, purified

"Ad Aeternam... Gloria"
