Sybreed, ReEvolution (Syntax Airplay Edit)

The machine has failed to victimized, to broke us on our knees And no longer we hear their poisoned words of fear Corporate rape is ending now, we leave our chains and rise We fuck the system Liberation revive our freedom Re-evolution is near, the time has come for us Masses on march, we want to retake our destiny To break the government lies We stand the fire of oppression and move unchained The system collapse below the pressure of insurgence Anger solidified by the years will lead our steps No more submission for our mind No more constrain and rights denied We clear our future now Liberation revive our freedom Re-evolution is near, the time has come for us
