

Syd Barret, Love Song

I knew a girl and I like her still
she said she knew she would trust me
and I her will...

I said: OK baby, tell me what you'll be
and I'll lay my head down and see what I see.

By the time she was back

by her open eyes

I knew that I was in for a big surprise.

I knew a girl and I like her still
she said she knew she would trust me
and I her will...

I said: OK baby, tell me what you'll be
and I'll lay my head down and see what I see.

By the time she was back

by her open eyes

I knew that I was in for a big surprise.
