

Sylvan, Encounters

One decision, one encounter of fate
An explosion echoes through distant shades
Curiosity changed eternity
Your dream
One convergence, one creation of hope
With your vision, yes,
You set something free,
This is your deed,
On a threshold of dreams
This is your dream
Strange reunion whether future or past
Yet a million times changed the flow of life
New life, other journeys, other lands will arise,
Start it once again
Creating new life!

Don't be sorry,
little girl don't be sad though you lost this force forever rest your source

No-one ever dares believe
A deed that lies beyond their needs
Although one can yet feel
