

Sympathy, Love Me And Despair

welcome to my lair where I have slain the mighty and tasted the blood of the righteous the ashes and remains of their rotted flesh is fetid on the breath of my mouth

I am the tempter the alluring lech and harlot I call as a siren unto all come and taste of my wine and secret pleasures surrender your will unto me embrace the night to share my gifts bow unto me

love me and despair

I am the lust that festers like a wound and poisons your mind with every thought I am the hunger that weakens your resolve and consumes your heart and soul

I offer you all the pleasures of your flesh just bow and give your worship to me I offer you all the luxury of wealth just swear your allegiance to me I will give you all your heart desires but you will be bound unto me abandon all hope ye who enter here for mine is the gateway to hell my snares will entangle and my claws grip your flesh and you will become my thrall
