

Symphonic Destiny, Light in the Darkness

The Earth was so pure before the darkness came;
The floodgates of sin were opened to the world.

If sunlight starts shining in your darkest hour,
That could be the last chance in your entire life.

The strong desire sometimes misleads you,
Never make a promise you know you can't keep!

The light in the darkness can bring the salvation for you.
You are the sailor, discovering the world, and seeing the wonder.

The gale winds can bring your golden 'n bright future.
You are on the verge of giving up the search.

Pandora's box contains all the evils of the world;
The dark passion game has just begun.

Try to seek the joy in your life,
Chasing the dreams 'till the end of time!
The glory of dawn unfolds,
The Helios is rising now...
