

T3chnophob1a, Abduction Starfleet

They ask; people asking why they were created for.

And now, the answer comes out easily

Strikes straight to the core

Abduction starfleet.

We told many lies about the greys and hollow Earth

And now, we never give you a second chance

Surrender to the masterplan

Gods from the skies, abduction starfleet's on the rise

Green black combined force waves the flag from another world

We never made stupid circles in your fields

We laughed out loud when you found

The Roswell's mannequin

So join the alliance, spread the disease before we come

Collapsing halls, skyscrapers fall, the fleet comes from the blackest hole

Gods from the skies, abduction starfleet's on the rise
