

Tad Morose, Forever Gone

Minute by minute I'm undergoing something that I've got in mind Memories that will be there forever are coming back right before my eyes

Everything that's inside me are feelings that I feel I can't trust, I can't give anymore of what's left in me Searching for another day so I can give and just walk away I have to let it out to get my life in shape so that dreams of tomorrow can be real so I can feel Everything that I had is now lost and gone forever Maybe I did something wrong and now... there's nothing I can do