

Tamyra Gray, Faces

(Verse 1)

Playground voices speak again thoughts of how we were in my head tell me how we lost the innocence like a child waking from a dream everything's not what it seemed you were never really a friend to me

(Bridge)

Must've thought i couldn't see it that you were only down for the ride and out for yourself now you're bound by the life you left behind

(Chorus)

Cuz you kick me when i'm down trap me when i'm free cut me with your lies then sit back and watch it bleed i think your losin grip baby you're in to deep tell me which one of your face baby you're so good at bein what you ain't betta hold your breath cuz honey it's to late you've run right outta time

baby you're in to deep
tell me wich one of your faces is it gonna be

(Verse 2)

You pulled the wool right before my eyes i was blinded by your disguise young and you didn't wanna face reality without the mask where will you hide can't find yourself lost in your lies whatcha think that i'd just sit back and let you use me

(Bridge)

(chorus)

(Verse 3)

Sorry's just a game you like to play to ease the pain but words ain't good enough when it's all in vain is that what you think i'm just that weak that you could walk all over me

(Chorus)
