

Tamyra Gray, Legend

I gotta say,
I must admit never thought there would ever be someone to open my eyes
When you feel The taste of it swept me away
Like a drug Intoxicating, captivating forces put me under a spell
And I don't feel afraid

Waited long time for my prince to show
Waited patiently I want the world to know
Waited long time through a chain of fools
Waited patiently and that prince was you

Chorus
Passion so strong
I can't hold on Pleasure I yearn
With every burn
Keeps me alive
Melting inside
As legend would have it told
You give me good love

I can taste
Emotions so deep living my wildest fantasies
Explore every single inch of me, baby
Bring me to life butterfly
Heart and soul make me whole
Shield my pain stop the rain
Chase all my clouds away

Waited long time for my prince to show
Waited patiently I want the world to know
Waited long time through a chain of fools
Waited patiently and that prince was you

Chorus

Bring me to life butterfly
Heart and soul make me whole
Shield my pain stop the rain
Chase all my clouds away

Chorus
