

Tantric, Just Once

Just once I'd like to show
A part of me that's in control
I don't know how to say
But I would regret it anyway

Just once I'd like to feel
That space and time were standing still
And if I look away
I'm guaranteed you'll stay the same

Can you sit here all alone
The more I try the more it seems I'm starting to run
We've been waiting for so long
There's more to life than meets the eye for everyone

Can you sit here and be strong
Tomorrow's gonna come along if you hold on
We've been waiting for too long
Something's got to give so we can move along

Just once I'd like to know
Is someone out there who can show
Us how to live again
But I get doubtful now and then

Just once I'd like to see
The same solution work for me
And if I look away
I'm guaranteed you'll stay the same

Can you sit here all alone
The more I try the more it seems I'm starting to run
We've been waiting for so long
There's more to life than meets the eye for everyone

Can you sit here and be strong
Tomorrow's gonna come along if you hold on
We've been waiting for too long
Something's got to give so we can move along

Can you sit here all alone
The more I try the more it seems I'm starting to run
We've been waiting for so long
There's more to life than meets the eye for everyone

Can you sit here and be strong
Tomorrow's gonna come along if you hold on
We've been waiting for too long
Something's got to give so we can move along
