

Tanya Donelly, Influenza

Two days at the end
The light in here is weak
And so I weep

Two hours at the end
The talk in here is cheap
And so I weep

Did ya catch my american flu?
The world is young and so are you
So tap my american flu

Funny old world
Funny old world

Kill the wine and kiss the girl
And tonight, man, you rule the world

Falling on back again
And put an ending to this losers game
No one will play with you

Did you catch my american flu?
The world is young and so are you
So tap my american flu
I'll steer you up and fly you to

My funny old world
Funny old world...
