

Tanya Tucker, Down To My Last Teardrop

They said your love life's in trouble in a magazine I read
When the one you love is hangin' off of his side of the bed
Baby, your just barley hanging on
Honey I know you'll soon be gone
And I don't need my palm read to know what lies ahead
I can see you in the arms of another girl instead
Baby this ain't the first time that youve done this to me
Honey it's gonna be the last time
And I know that you'll be thinkin' I'll be goin' out of my mind
Crying you a river that winds and winds and winds
Oh but baby I'm down to my last teardrop this time
I don't care who or what you're doin'
Ain't gonna be no more boohoooin'
Baby this time I swear it's the truth
I ain't gonna cry no more for you
Uh-uh
Now I know where I'm goin' baby I know where I'm bound
I've been rearranging chairs on a ship that's goin' down
Baby, just step aside if you would
Honey, it's really over for good
And you might want to talk to me, you might want to call
But you won't hear nothin' out of me at all
Cause Baby, I ain't got nothin' left to say
Honey, I'll just be on my way
And I know that you'll be thinkin' I'll be goin' out of my mind
Crying you a river that winds and winds and winds
Oh but baby I'm down to my last teardrop this time
I don't care who or what you're doin'
Ain't gonna be no more boohoooin'
Baby this time I swear it's the truth
I ain't gonna cry no more for you
And I know that you'll be thinkin' I'll be goin' out of my mind
Crying you a river that winds and winds and winds
Oh but baby I'm down to my last teardrop
Baby I'm down to my last teardrop
Baby I'm down to my last teardrop this time
