

Tapping The Vein, Sugar Falls

What am I doing here?
What am I waiting for?
Will somebody fall from Heaven,
And join me on the floor?

Why am I holding out,
pretending it might make sense?
I will not understand this
Any better then

If sugar falls all over me
If sugar falls, then we'll see
So I'll wait, as I always wait
As I always wish for something more

What if I try escaping?
Hoping for some repair
And then what if all of this heartache
Follows to find me there?

If sugar falls all over me
If sugar falls, then we'll see
So I'll wait, as I always wait
As I always wish for something more

If sugar falls all over me
If sugar falls, then we'll see
So I'll wait, as I always wait
As I always wish for something more
