

Tarkio, Caroline Avenue

Things you said
were they true?
cause I haven't got a clue
and wouldn't know if they were not true.

Cause I am here, paper doll and I am waiting for your call but I won't wait until tomorrow.
So hard to mention
if you're in my shoes
but I'm tired of riding shotgun for you

as we glide down Caroline Avenue.
Time will tell you
that you're thinking you're right, when you are wrong.
And I'm thinking that this evening won't last long, no no,
cause I'm getting pretty tired of you waxing so inspired
bout the lights down Caroline Avenue.

Serves you right
Feel this way
Be so clinically deranged
that I won't stand for all of your bullshit.
So take your time,
cause we've got time.
Remember, what is yours is mine
Don't let it slide by the wayside.

Reeling from the tension,
it's all ending here
and I'm chasing shots of whiskey
with everclear

as we glide down Caroline Avenue.
Time will tell you
that you're thinking you're right, when you are wrong.
And I'm thinking that this evening won't last long, no no,
cause I'm getting pretty tired of you waxing so inspired
bout the lights down Caroline Avenue.

And you're trying so hard but it takes more than just flipping off traffic cops to impress me.
You underestimate me.

Emptied out
Falling free
It will all catch up with me
And I am in control and patient
But I will wait til you decide It's all over for the time and I will stay behind til you decide.
Carry me til daylight
when your wisdom clears til tomorrow finds me shoeless and jaded.

as we glide down Caroline Avenue.
Time will tell you
that you're thinking you're right, when you are wrong.
And I'm thinking that this evening won't last long, no no,
cause I'm getting pretty tired of you waxing so inspired
bout the lights down Caroline Avenue.
