

Tendency To Talk, This Time It Worked

I want to be sure
i hope it will last
what's done is gone
back in the past

you never complain
you always just say
the intent's there
but that's ok

this time it worked

you're falling asleep
i'm falling apart
another decision to part

try as i may
i'll never forget
the memory
grows stronger yet
try as i may
i'll never push through it's clear that i still need you and now the pieces fall away to show another rainy day so when the dark clouds disappear just like always we are still here

we will see
