

Teramaze, Storm Rain Tears

The Lord thundered from Heaven his voice
Of the Most High he spoke to me and saved me from myself
Through his eyes the rain appears
Washed away the sin and tears
But I trust in his unfailing love
To give me light
Were my foes too strong for me?
I heard the lamb and the preacher
As if they watched over me
He gave me sight
Through his eyes the rain appears
Washed away the sin and tears
But I trust in his unfailing love
To give me light
The window follows
You can't see
That it is nothing more
Than your own reflection
Staring back into your soul
Where darkness lies
Through his eyes the rain appears
Washed away the sin and tears
But I trust in his unfailing love
To give me light
