Terminal, Miss Louisiana

I've been twice on the highway back to texas, with heaven behind me and it's a shame on our anniversary we've nothing left to celebrate darling, I can't replace you

I have to keep on moving or I get lost in all I'm losing I stay, drifting through my head with the static you left give me closure it's all I want from you