

Terrian, Honestly, We Just Need Jesus

I got a front row seat to the madness
I pick up my phone every morning out of habit
I've been fiendin' for the drama
Yeah I said it
I'm addicted to the rush need a medic
When I take a step back I can see it
All the pain all the fear we've been feeling
Losing sight of the thing that we're needing
That we're needing

Honestly, I think we just need Jesus
Honestly, I think we just need Jesus
Have we all gone mad
Have we lost our minds
What used to be wrong
We say that it's right
Honestly, I think we just need Jesus

Take a good long look in the mirror
Search my heart and soul make it clearer
Help me take your love, trade the bitter
Leave it in the dust, help me leave it in the dust Lord
We've been preaching we've been drinking in the vanity
Now it's got us questioning our sanity
And we wonder how we get all this anxiety
It's clear to me

Honestly, I think we just need Jesus (Jesus)
Honestly, I think we just need Jesus (Jesus)
Have we all gone mad
Have we lost our minds
What used to be wrong
We say that it's right
Honestly, I think we just need Jesus

We turn away
We're running back to you
Covered in grace
God you can make us new
We turn away
We're running back to you
Covered in grace
God you can make us new

Honestly, we need we need you Jesus
Honestly, we need we need you Jesus
Have we all gone mad
Have we lost our minds
What used to be wrong
We say that it's right
Honestly we need we need you Jesus
Oh Jesus
Jesus
We need you Jesus
Oh

We're running back to you oh
Yeah
Make us new
