

Terror, All For Revenge

I'll take the weight, hold the shame
Inside myself, I'm cut by blame
As the burden falls on me
Down on me
How could they know, the poisoned youth
Victim of the times, never shown truth
And you and me sat back and watched
As the foundation broke

This, this is the end
All, all for revenge

Destroy, rebuild, bomb your words
Our times at hand, I want to watch you burn
I can't ignore it anymore
Go right for you throat
An end to you, those in control
You feed the masses, a mindless clone
No wealth or fame can ever replace
My one true love, my saving grace

This is a call for vengeance
The search for redemption
The truth it speaks louder than bombs
So I confront myself and now I shut you down

This is the end all for revenge
