Testament, The Ritual

Say hello again, my friends I've got to go The ritual calls to me Screams twist in harmony

Blinding lights reveal Thoughts that should not be The ritual calls to me Silent insanity

You really thought you'd never Be the one who bleeds It's all so clear to me now Why can't they see?

Revelations breaking through The truth distorts Untimely accident Your precious mind is lost

Try to regain again my friend Your sanity The ritual calls to me Melodic agony

You really never thought you would never Be the one who bleeds It's all so clear to me now Why they can't see?

Fry away your mind

Walk behind the blind Kill yourself killing time

Oooh, what'cha gonna do When your life is sold To a world so cold?

Hey, what'cha gonna say When you're on your way On your darkest day?

Hey Darkest day

Say goodbye again, my friends I'm coming home The ritual calls to me Distant reality

Unseen images expose What I can't see The ritual calls to me Won't ever set me free

You really thought you'd never Be the one who bleeds It's all so clear to me now Why can't you see ? Fry away your mind Walk behind the blind Kill yourself killing time
