

Texas, Broken

Every night before I rest my head
Hold me close as I draw another breath
Still hoping, that our love's not broken

Every flight that we plan ahead
Look to the skies for the words that I've said
Still hoping, that our world's not broken

So tonight, you're everything upon the screen
And everything I want to be
I'll come with you and dream my dream

So tonight, in every way I want you to stay
And every little word you say - oh

Every morning when I wait for you
Each way I look you'll see something new
Still hoping, that my world's not broken

Every time I dream crazy dreams
Of bright water and brightless sunbeams
I'm hoping, that my mind's not broken

So tonight, you're everything upon the screen
And everything I want to be
I'll come with you and dream my dream

So tonight, in every way I want you to stay
And every little word you say - oh

[INSTRUMENTAL]

So tonight, you're everything upon the screen
And everything I want to be
I'll come with you and dream my dream

So tonight, in every way I want you to stay
And every little word you say
I'll come with you and dream my dream

So tonight, in every way I want you to stay
And every little word you say - oh
