The 69 Eyes, Framed In Blood

Would you give me the key to the empire of bliss gimme substance to dissmiss Everybody's searching for a difference everybody's searching for the liveliness gimme just another reason to live things you can resist things cannot they're just framed in blood

Would you give me redemption in your kiss gimme something that I already miss Everybody's searching for difference everybody's searching for providence gimme just another reason to live things you can resist things you cannot they're just framed in blood
