The Academy Is..., You Might Have Noticed

If you're under the impression I'm alright I guess you never noticed I guess you might have known I've been holding this together for so long But I guess you might have noticed Well I guess you...

The beast within the burden is all mine
A product of his father, a slave to his pride
I feel I need to reveal my true stripes
But the bitch of all this trouble here
Waits behind the wind to find out
(Shallow love, shallow love, shallow love)

You set me up to leave me, oh you wanted to feel Shallow love, shallow lives With every word, you speak of what you wanted from me Wanted from me, yeah

I'm sinking more and more into my lies Now home is just a pinprick in the vastness of my life Feel the pressure, feel the pleasure Feel the pain, you're not alone Feel the pleasure, feel the pain Feel the pain, hey (Shallow love, shallow love, shallow love)

You set me up to leave me, oh you wanted to feel Shallow love, shallow lives With every word, you speak of what you wanted from me Wanted from me, yeah

Realizations, I am not what you thought I was You change directions every time someone judges us In moderation, what was once us now never was You change directions every time someone judges us

You set me up to leave me, oh you wanted to feel Shallow love, shallow lives With every word, you speak of what you wanted from me You wanted from me, yeah

Set me up to leave me, you set me up to leave me

Realizations, I am not what you thought I was In moderation, what was once us now never was
