

The Afghan Whigs, Let Me Lie To You

(Dulli)

all alone, all alone
no one to play with your eyes are all swollen from crying feeling sick
you open it
and discover your lover between the legs of another and he's loving it
let me lie to you
i'll be kind when i deceive you but you must never question me just quietly believe
there, there
you haven't a care
i won't ever hurt you, deny or desert you don't ask me again
wake up! and listen to thee someone must have told you someone must control you before you can get free
