

The Afghan Whigs, Night By Candlelight

(Dulli)

Repeat these words

After me

In all honesty

Repeat these words

After me

If you dare to believe this

Yourself

Am I vain? Have I shame?

Are my thoughts of a man

Who can call himself sane?

Do I blame, all my pain

On the wickedness

I have arranged?

If I do, bring it down

Repeat these words

After me

In all honesty

Repeat these words

After me

If you dare to believe this

Yourself

Am I vain? Have I shame?

Are my thoughts of a man

Who can call himself sane?

Is my fate, all the same

As the man who has

Walked the line straight

If it is, bring it down

And I, I must rely, my dear

And I, cannot deny, my dear

There will be a reckoning

Which was, is

And is to come

Repeat these words

After me

In all honesty

Repeat these words

After me

If you dare

To believe
